A Word from the Bishop's Warden

Cooler weather is here. We had our first real freezes for this fall. With this time of year diocesan convention also comes around. By next Sunday we will know the outcomes of the decisions made. Hopefully civility and love will be present in all discussions.

Last week Fr Fasel urged us to look for what would be a moral budget. He was talking about our civil budgets, national and otherwise. I would pray for the same in our church lives.

The reason is because as members of the body of Christ have an obligation to each other to support our fellow members, to not only not add to burdens borne by others but to relieve of the burdens we can.

Jesus knew that as individuals we cannot live up to the commandments or the beatitudes or any of the other things we are called to do. But as a community we can. If I help you and you help me with loving supports we will come much closer. While we will fail sometimes when one of us needs help, we can remind each other that even if we believe that God is sometimes disappointed by us, He always loves us.

That support is main reason I am so thankful for all of you and look forward to every time we meet in Church, talk or pray for each other.

Wishing God's Peace for All,
John

CAMP KHALIL

Quoted from St. Mary Magdalene's website:

"Kamp Khalil is St. Mary Magdalene's response to both local and Church inquiries about small groups using our grounds for camping. It will offer a small group outdoor weekend experience to local scouting, youth, and church groups at little or no cost. Kamp Khalil was dedicated on June 21, 2017.

On a more serious side, the Church's labyrinth offers a quiet place to reflect on scouting laws and values, or personal prayer and meditation, as campers can walk this ancient path of spiritual enlightenment."
